Every time you advise a person who has dyspepsia, indigestion, colic, "gripes" or kindred trouble, to use NOURRILEAN you do him a favor which he should and probably will pass to your credit.

It's the pure, simple, harmless remedy. Your folks should always have it in the house.

DAYLIGHT FIREWORK DISPLAY

Public Subscription Fund Makes Possible a Fitting Celebration, but Lacking the Usual Element of Danger—Ceremonies at Newly Unveiled Stephenson Monument.

For the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant the Fourth of July will be celebrated in Washington to-morrow without the usual noise and explosion of fireworks.

This has been made possible by the combined efforts of the District Commissioners, the police, and members of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce to have the patriotic celebration on a safe and sane basis, eliminating the promiscuous explosion of fireworks by children and prohibiting the sale of fireworks by dealers.

The joint committee of the Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce, of which Commissioner Macfarland is chairman, has provided from the public subscription fund a liberal display of daylight fireworks for the amusement of the children, morning and afternoon, and a pyrotechnic display on the Ellipse at night.

Display of Daylight Fireworks.
The official celebration will begin to-morrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at the junction of Louisiana avenue and Seventh street, near Pennsylvania avenue. There will be an hour's display of daylight fireworks, in which large bomb, parachute, balloon, and floating American flag will form a prominent feature.

At 10:30 o'clock the ceremonies from the stand around the base of the Stephenson monument, unveiled yesterday, will begin. This stand will seat 3,000 persons. Commissioner Macfarland, chairman of the joint committee, will preside. There will be a number of prominent District and national government officials on the stand, together with members of the two business bodies. Members of Congress, and others.

Robert Latham Owen, Senator from Oklahoma, will deliver the oration. W. F. Gude will read the Declaration of Independence. Charles B. Hanford will recite "The American Flag." Mrs. Thomas C. Noyes will sing "The Star Spangled Banner." A chorus of 400 school children, under the direction of Miss Alys Bentley, musical director of the public schools, will sing three patriotic airs, accompanied by the United States Marine band, which will furnish the military music. Invocation will be pronounced by Rev. F. D. Power, pastor of the All Vermont Avenue Christian Church, and the benediction will be by Rev. Eugene A. Hannan.

Concert in the Afternoon.

There will be a concert on the Ellipse by the District Militia band in the afternoon. A programme of out-door sports for the children has been arranged for the morning and afternoon on the Ellipse. Three displays of daylight fireworks have been arranged, one preceding the ceremonies at the Stephenson statue, one at the conclusion, and another in the afternoon. The automobile flag parade will start at 5:30 o'clock, and will move over some of the principal downtown streets, and around the Ellipse, Monument grounds, circle, and Potomac Park.

The official programme will be announced in full detail in to-morrow's issue of The Washington Herald, with a

GUARD WILL EMBARK

District Soldiers to Attend
the Joint Maneuvers.

NEW ENGLAND TRIP PLANNED

Gen. Harries Comments Upon Summer Coast Campaign—Will Receive Sealed Orders—Appointment and Promotion of Officers Under Reorganization Act—Discharges.

The District National Guard will embark on August 11, under sealed orders, on board transports for the New England coast, where they will participate in the joint maneuvers with the regular army and the militia from New York and Massachusetts. These forces will constitute the command of Maj. Gen. Wood, U. S. A., commander of the Department of the East.

Brig. Gen. George H. Harries said yesterday:

"We are going to attack the enemy, which will be concentrated somewhere along the New England coast behind the big coast guns, and we shall defeat it. Details of the campaign cannot be given out, as I have not received official orders, and it is probable that when I do get them they will be sealed, with instructions not to open them until I am on board the transport. If we are going to Boston, I do not know it, as I have received no orders to that effect."

Conferred with Wood.

Gen. Harries said he was in conference with Gen. Wood eight weeks ago concerning the summer encampment, and the plans discussed at that time were that the District National Guard would participate in the New England maneuvers with the regular army and the militia from New York and Massachusetts. These troops will be organized in corps, and the local brigade will be a part of the Second Corps.

Gen. Harries was enthusiastic concerning the prospects of the campaign. He believes the Guardsmen will learn much about offensive attacks upon fortifications.

The unique feature of the campaign will be the embarking on board transports, which has never occurred before in the history of the District Guard. That this has created widespread interest among the young men of the District is shown by the increased number of enlistments. Former members of the guard, commissioned and noncommissioned officers, are entering the ranks as privates so as to get the trip to New England.

The first active steps toward the appointment and promotion of officers of the guard, in accordance with the reorganization act, was taken last week, when a physical examination of applicants were held in the room of the ambulance corps, at Center Market Armory.

The officers who came up for promotion are Capt. F. Penrose Smith, Second Regiment; Capt. Summers, Second Regiment; Capt. Walker, Second Regiment; Capt. George L. Tait, First Regiment; First Lieut. Alderman, First Regiment; First Lieut. John B. Softman, First Regiment; First Lieut. Neumeier, First Regiment; First Lieut. Holt, Second Regiment; First Lieut. Dennison, Second Regiment; First Lieut. Roberts, Second Regiment.

Capt. Clarence Weaver, surgeon of the First Regiment, and First Lieut. Bennett, surgeon of the Second Regiment, constitute the medical examining board, which has been conducting the physical examination of applicants. As soon as the result of these examinations are published successful applicants will proceed with the theoretical examination.

Capt. Woodman, surgeon, Second Infantry, First Lieut. N. D. Fabes, H. B.

TWO WANT AD BRANCHES OF THE WASHINGTON HERALD

WELLER'S PHARMACY
8th and I Streets S. E.

Ever since 1883 this drug store has been a great convenience to residents of Southeast Washington, especially to employees of the navy yard. Excellent prescription work by graduate pharmacists, the attractive soda fountain, a complete assortment of toilet articles, and courteous attention have made this pharmacy a popular one. The M street store was established later, and though widely separated—in distance—the two stores are much alike in good points. Both stores make a specialty of Eastman Kodaks and supplies.

Want Ads for The Washington Herald may be left at either of these stores at the regular office rate of 1 cent a word for each day the Ad appears. They are phoned without extra charge to the main office and will appear the next day—reaching the 150,000 readers, of all classes, who have all day in which to "get down" to the small ads. Every advertiser has an equal opportunity on the Want Page of The Washington Herald, because no advertiser has preference or the privilege of using large type. "Herald Want Ads" bring results.

WELLER'S PHARMACY
3534 M Street N. W.

At the Aqueduct Bridge, where Virginia traffic passes, this store has been of much help to visitors who need Eastman Kodaks or supplies, or who desire refreshing soda water or a good cigar. The stock includes a full line of patent medicines, toilet articles, perfumes, brushes, soaps, stationery, rubber goods, and confectionery at very reasonable prices. The prescription work is excellent.

Both stores are under the personal supervision of Dr. F. P. Weller.
